

BIO

Jef Sturm is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art where he received his degree in graphic design and fine art. Since then he has spent most of his lifetime drawing & painting and studying landscape painting theories. He demonstrates, exhibits and sells his work at Brookgreen Gardens, in Pawleys Island, South Carolina, The Seacoast Artists Guild in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, The Gray Man Gallery in Pawleys Island, South Carolina. Working from altered and revised photographic compositions, Jef's approach to painting is to "Capture the quality of light as it exists in a solitary moment." Besides teaching privately, he teaches painting for The Coastal Carolina University OLLI Program, life drawing and painting for The Seacoast Artists Guild, and life drawing and workshops for The Waterway Art Association in Calabash, North Carolina.
